

TABLE OF CONTENTS

1: Getting to the Roots of the Historical-Critical Method	1
2: The First Cracks of Secularism: Marsilius of Padua and William of Ockham.	17
3: John Wycliffe	61
4: Machiavelli	117
5: Luther and the Reformation	147
6: England and Henry VIII	221
7: Descartes and the Secular Cosmos	257
8: Thomas Hobbes.	285
9: Spinoza and the Beginning of the Radical Enlightenment	339
10: The Ambiguous Richard Simon.	395
11: The English Civil Wars, Moderate Radicals, and John Locke.	425
12: Revolution, Radicals, Republicans, and John Toland.	487
13: Conclusion.	543
Bibliography	567
Acknowledgement.	593
Index.	595

Copyright, The Crossroad Publishing Company

